Winter has opened up early at Duluth, with heavy snows and low temperature.

It will be several weeks before Huerta lets the news of the Mexican election filter through.

Aviator Canal, of the French army, fell from his monoplane Tuesday at Rheims and was killed.

The bleachers collapsed at a ball game at Tulsa, Okla., killing one man and injuring 50 others.

A troop train was dynamited by Mexican rebels Tuesday near San Salvador and 115 soldiers were killed.

Miss Nancy Leishman, daughter of the former American Ambassador to Berlin, was married Tuesday at Geneva, Switzerland, to the Duke of Croix.

Miss Fidler has been ruled off the ticket in Fayette county and the other lady candidate for superintendent of schools is singing a solo without an accompaniment.

The Democratic party deserves an endorsement at the hands of the people. The record of the last four years is in striking contrast to previous administrations in county affairs.

Don't forget to vote for the Tuberculosis Sanatorium. It will not provide for any increase in taxes. It is the one effective way to combat consumption, which causes 170 deaths a year in Christian county.

The Democratic nominees for councilmen all won their nominations fairly, and according to law. If you are a Democrat and went into the primary, you are honor bound to support the ticket in your ward.

New York inspectors seized $600 worth of algettes in a young woman's hat, under the new law prohibiting the importation of plumes. She prized them highly and pleaded hard but the officers were obdurate and plucked them.

Gen. Diaz has gotten out of Mexico, with the help of the American Consul at Vera Cruz, without Huerta being able to get hold of him. A recent order for his arrest is believed to have been made when Gen. Diaz appealed for protection.

The first butter ever received in the Chicago market from Siberia and Argentina made its appearance Tuesday—750 pounds from Siberia and fifty-six pounds from the Argentina. The importation with a chance of profit was made possible by the new tariff law.

In a brief filed Monday in the "Annapolis Election Case" the United States Supreme Court was asked to determine whether a State may prohibit negroes from voting in State and municipal elections. This is to be the final test of the "grandfather clause" of several Southern States.

It matters but little who fills the appointive offices in the city, providing always they are honest and capable and good Democrats, for the Democratic party must continue to rule in Hopkinsville. But the first thing to look to is the election of the Democratic nominees in every ward. The rest will be easy.

TOM BOWLES

Found With An Ugly Gash In His Throat.

Tom Bowles, colored, was found lying on the street near First and Virginia a few nights ago with an ugly gash on his throat, which had been sewed up. Bowles refuses to tell who cut him. It is rumored that a woman attacked him with a razor.

LIQUOR DECISION

Judge Sanders Rules That Wholesalers Can Operate in Tennessee.

DECISION IS FAR-REACHING.

Tennessee Central Receivers Asked the Court For Instructions.

Washington, Oct. 29. — Liquor dealers in Nashville may receive shipments of intoxicating liquors from outside the State, and may make shipments to points outside of the State, provided they have paid the State privilege tax and will file statements showing that the shipments are to or from points without the State, and will also file statements with the county court clerk of Davidson county showing the receipt and delivery of all such shipments.

Such is the opinion of Judge E. T. Sanford, of the United States District Court, delivered Tuesday to the receivers of the Tennessee railroad, who asked a few days ago for instructions.

JEWELL W SMITH

Candidate for Sheriff Subject to The Action of the Democratic Voters of Christian Co.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 28, 1913.

To my friends and voters of Christian County:—I have been riding day and night trying to see all of you, but I find it is going to be an impossibility to see each voter before election day and I take this means of trying to reach you. It has been my great ambition to some day be Sheriff of Christian County. I know that it means a world of work and a great responsibility to be able to hold this office, but for years I have been preparing myself to be capable of performing every duty and worthy of the honor should the people of dear old Christian county see fit to elect me to carry out its laws. After I finished the common school course I entered McLean College to continue my school work that I might be prepared to do whatever came before me.

I was appointed Deputy under my father, David Smith, when he was elected Sheriff by the people of our grand old county.

After serving you two years he was thrown out of office, not for any crime or misuse of the office, but on a mere technicality by a Republican Judge and my opponent J. M. Renshaw was installed therein.

Is not that enough to make you go to the polls on the fourth day of November and cast your vote for me, that I may win back what so justly belonged to my father whose heart was broken by such cruel treatment?

In my mind's eye I can see how his face will brighten, how his step will quicken and how at peace with the world will he feel when he finds that the people are still for him through his son.

For the last four years I have been

PARK SUIT ON THE WAY

Agreed Case To Be Passed Upon In Circuit Court.

SUIT WAS FILED TUESDAY.

Purpose Is To Remove All Doubt of City's Authority.

A suit to test the right of the city to permit the public library building to be erected in Peace Park, was filed Tuesday and a decision will be made this week by Judge Hanbery and the case will be taken to the Court of Appeals for early hearing. Injunction is asked for on the ground that the park was left to the city by John C. Latham for park purposes only and that the permission granted by the Council December 20, 1912, for a Carnegie library to be placed on a part of the park was wrong and a violation of the terms of the will.

The facts are agreed to and the suit is a friendly one, the purpose being to settle all doubts in advance. If the building cannot be erected in Peace Park, the presumption is that a lot will be provided somewhere else.

STILL SPREADING

T. L. Metcalfe Widens Out His Florist Business.

Mr. Thos. L. Metcalfe, of this city, who owns a greenhouse in Clarksville, has, in connection with several other parties, bought out the long established Evergreen Lodge Greenhouse in that city. Irving Roseborough, of this city, and Martin Cross, Dancy Fort and Percy Richardson of Clarksville, are associated with Mr. Metcalfe in the enterprise. The plant contains four greenhouses and will temporarily be placed in charge of B. C. Burch, who goes from Madisonville. It will be overhauled and improved and given a touch of Hopkinsville enterprise.

Chief Deputy under your present Sheriff, Mr. Lowe Johnson, who has encouraged me and urged me forth to do my duty no matter what the cost might be.

As you may have noticed in the papers of this city, each year the settlement made by him with the State and County has been used in the office of the State Auditor as a criterion by which other Counties should be governed in making up such settlements; it being one of the two or three correct settlements out of the 119 counties.

In doing my duty in suppressing lawlessness, serving your interests as tax payers of Christian county in the various capacities I have had the example of your present Sheriff Mr. Johnson whom you well know has conserved your best interests for the last four years.

Four years as Chief Deputy under one of the best men who ever held an office in the State means efficiency and fearlessness in the discharge of the county's affairs.

If elected I am determined to live up to the standard of my former Chief, which I am sure will satisfy any reasonable man.

There is much I would like to say but let me impress upon you the importance of your going to the polls and casting your vote for a young man who is so willing to carry out every promise, and I promise you to keep your confidence and to always be loyal and true to my County and her best interest.

Very Respectfully,
JEWELL W. SMITH.

MARTIN IS DEAD

The Colored Section Hand Who Was Shot a Week Ago.

WOUND PROVED FATAL.

Ben Dillard, Colored, Is in Jail Charged With His Murder.

George Martin, who was shot by Ben Dillard at First and Railroad streets last Wednesday, lingered until Tuesday when he died. He was taken to the house of a colored woman near by and the mayor employed a colored man to care for him and yesterday the body was buried by the city and county jointly in Cave Spring cemetery. An inquest was held following Martin's death.

Dillard is in jail and the charge against him will be changed to murder. The negroes were shooting craps in a box car when they quarreled over 10 cents and left the car when Dillard shot Martin. Dillard claims that Martin was trying to cut him with a knife. Dillard was arrested by officers Shanklin and Walker and turned over to the county authorities.

NEWEST FEATURE

In Motion Pictures Secured By The Princess.

Manager John Venable, of the Princess theatre, has been notified by the Crescent Amusement Co. that his company will after this week put on a new feature, the famous Kinemacolor motion pictures. Mr. Venable has been working to get this feature for some time and his success means much for the Princess. The Kinemacolor picture is presented true to nature and objects are thrown upon the screen in their natural colors. A revolving ray filter attachment causes the film to absorb all the colors of the universe and these are projected on the screen in proper order. The possibilities of this new triumph of art are great. The pictures will be presented regularly, every program probably containing one of the Kinemacolor films.

DEAD AT 93

Nonagenarian Was Servant of Late Rice Dulin.

Vinah Johnson, col., died a few days ago at the home of her son-in-law, Gus Anderson, in this city, at the extreme age of ninety-three. Before the war she was a servant in the family of the late Rice Dulin, of the Crofton neighborhood, father of Mr. M. V. Dulin, of this city.

THE POWERS ALL AGREE

To Await Our Plan For Dealing With The Mexican Problem.

SOON TO BE MADE PUBLIC.

Elimination of Huerta and His Gang Will Be Its Core.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Great Britain, Germany and France have agreed to adopt no new policy toward Mexico until the government of the United States can submit for their consideration a definite plan for the future treatment of the revolution-torn republic.

When the note to the powers is to be presented has not been determined, but the belief prevails that reasonable time will be given for the announcement from the Huerta government in Mexico of the result of last Sunday's election. That this announcement will be that the election of a new president had failed because of the insufficiency of the vote is the expectation of officials here and it is believed President Wilson and his advisers are proceeding on the theory that some concerted effort must be made by all the governments interested in Mexico to rid that nation of the domination of General Huerta.

Articles of incorporation of the Hancock Warehouse Company have been filed with the county clerk. The capital stock is $10,000 and the incorporators are Nat Dortch, D. M. Hancock and M. C. Boyd. The company will do a general tobacco business. Their warehouse, now under construction, is located on the corner of Second and Liberty streets.

THREE COUNTIES

Referendum Vote on the Tuberculosis Sanatorium Proposition.

In Christian, Henderson and Fayette counties, the Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission is aiding the local anti-tuberculosis societies, county medical societies, and others who are interested in carrying their counties for the tuberculosis sanatoria. In each of these counties, the petition for the referendum vote was signed by numerous physicians, and others interested.

These three counties have, individually, very high death rates from tuberculosis. The educational campaigns regarding the nature of the disease, and its local prevalence, which are being carried on in all three counties, have made the citizens realize the condition as never before. It is believed that a large vote will be cast on the proposition in each county and that the result is practically certain to be favorable.

CLOSING RALLIES

Both Sides Are Coming Down On The Home Stretch.

REPUBLICANS ON THE RUN

Great Bitterness Shown In the Cards in the Newspapers.

The campaign is closing with a bitterness seldom seen in the county.

Following the card of Judge W. T. Fowler published Tuesday denying the statement of V. E. Barnes that he had attempted in behalf of his brother, L. E. Fowler, to make a trade on the county clerk's office, Mr. Barnes has published an affidavit re-iterating his statement.

Jno. C. Duffy has also replied to the Fowler card in a lengthy article taking Judge Fowler severely to task and replying to and vigorously denying the several charges made in detail. In the newspaper controversy, Judge Fowler has gotten much the worst of the argument.

Democratic rallies have been held this week in a number of country precincts and in spite of bad weather the people continue to show a keen interest in Democratic success.

At Church Hill this afternoon and at Kelly tonight there will be speaking and then come the following:

Edward's Mill, Friday Oct. 31, 1 p. m.

Pal yra, Friday, Oct. 31, 7 p. m.

Crofton, Saturday Nov. 1, 1 p. m.

The Republicans will have a big meeting at the Tabernacle tomorrow afternoon with Judge James Breathitt, Fowler and Feland as the orators. Both parties will have meetings up to the last day.

The ballots were completed by the Kentuckian office yesterday and are being sent out today.

HUBBY'S GHOST

In Real Flesh Caused Bride to Faint.

A delayed list of 46 survivors of the Volturno reached New York on the Devonian Monday.

There were numerous dramatic scenes at the Hebrew Sheltering Immigrant Aid Society's building when the new arrivals came face to face with others of the Volturno's saved previously brought by other steamers.

A bride who had become separated from her husband during the rescue at sea and believed he had been lost, screamed in fright, "It is his ghost" when she beheld him, and then fainted.

Four brothers and their sister of

The unmarried quintet, whose

Cows as a Money Standard.

The Chevsures, a race of 7,000 people, in this southern Russia, know nothing of the use of money as a medium of exchange. The unit of value among these primitive people is the cow. A horse is valued at three cows and a stallion at six. If a Chevsure becomes enraged and cracks his neighbor's skull, he is obliged to pay 16 cows. If he breaks a bone in his friend's arm or leg, five cows will rehabilitate him in the eyes of society,
while a wound in the forehead calls
for three cows.

It will be thus seen that a Chevsure gentleman with plenty of cows can have all the fun he wants in fighting.

TRAIN THE SPEAKING VOICE

While All Cannot Learn to Sing, All
May Acquire a Pleasant Tone
in Talking.

Reference is often made to the cultured voice, and that there may be a wide difference between the speech of the carefully educated person and the average illiterate individual is without question. Modulation, pitch, expression are all unlike and in favor of the one who is educated, says
the Indianapolis Star. At the same time, unfortunately, education of the prevailing kind does not necessarily improve the voice. It may be that something inherent in the individual—a harshness of nature, a lack of emotional self-control—may betray itself in vocal expression in-spite of any degree of intelligence that may be acquired. The fact remains, at all events, that shrill, harsh, unmusical voices are often heard in circles that pride themselves on their superior culture, while, on the other hand, among very humble, uneducated people, sweet and gently modulated voices are not uncommon.

But if there are some for whom training can do little, it is certain that for the majority cultivation of the speaking voice would be of much benefit. Not every child can learn to sing acceptably, but nearly every one can learn to talk at least fairly well. If half the pains were taken to train the speaking tones that are given to the singing voice, great improvement would be made.

TO VARY THE MENU

SOME NEW WAYS OF SERVING
WELL-KNOWN DISHES.

Apple Soup is Nothing of a Novelty,
But Always Appreciated—How to Prepare and Serve Up Savory Marrow Bones.

To vary the every-day menu, says Housekeeper, it is a good idea to keep up with new ways of serving well-known dishes. Those who know how can make much out of little, so,
though the larder may seem almost empty, the table may look as well filled as on a market day.

Apple Soup.—Peel and quarter a quart of cooking apples, carefully
removing the cores; put into a kettle
with three pints of white stock, pepper, salt, and three cloves; boil until tender, strain and reheat, adding a cup of sweet cream and a dash of nutmeg and a tablespoon of sugar. Serve with toast squares.

Cucumber Soup.—Pare, quarter, and remove the seeds from two cucumbers, cut in thick slices, and cover with boiling water to draw out the poison. Let them stand ten minutes, then have ready two quarts of white
stock, add the cucumbers, and boil slowly until very tender, adding a bunch of sweet herbs. Strain and season and add a gill of cream, in which two eggs have been well beaten. Serve at once with toast sippets.

Savory Marrow Bones.—Have marrow bones cut the desired length and boil them in a linen cloth in fair water long enough to release the marrow. Stuff them with a mixture of sweetbreads, mushrooms, the marrow and savory seasoning, and bake in a moderate oven. When done, they may be fitted with a paper collar and a black ribbon tie, tied in a square bow and a paper fool's cap, and served on lace paper doilies.

Deviled Salad Balls.—Take the yolks of four hard-boiled eggs and devill them, with salt, pepper, olive oil, dash of Worcestershire sauce, to form the paste, then form into little balls; roll in powdered nuts and drop into the salad among the leaves.
Cover with mayonnaise.

Extra mayonnaise may be in the center of the salad in a half-moon skin, having a slice cut from the bottom, so that it will stand upright.

Layer Cake, Soft Frosting.—In laying up a cake with soft frosting, each layer may be sprinkled with powdered pistachio nuts. To make it especially pretty for a festival occasion, the top
may be decorated with candied mint
and rose leaves.

In making the dressing for any salad, remember that only the very best olive oil that can be purchased is allowable, for the delicacy and flavor of a salad may be ruined if a cheap, heavy oil is used. And such oil may also make a salad most indigestible, whereas the pure oil is most healthful and nourishing.

Jelly Making.

The owner of a large canning factory claims that the superior flavor
of his jelly is due to the method followed in its preparation. In summer
he cans the juice from well-bolled
fruit, and seals, while hot, in gallon-jars, whose tops, after being tightly screwed on, are fastened securely by pouring melted shellac around the edges. When cooler weather sets in,
the cans are opened and the juice
boiled into jelly. The longer the juice is kept the richer will be the jelly.

Another easy way to make jelly is to boil the fruit in a muslin jelly-bag, boiling until contents of the bag are soft. Lift out and suspend on hook
all night to drain.

Corned Beef Gravy.

If your family always want gravy
on their potatoes if they can get it,
they can have it even with corned beef. Take some of the liquor, not too fat, thicken with flour and season with a little pepper. Do not salt until you taste it and see if necessary.
If the corned beef is of good flavor
this makes an acceptable gravy.

Bright Red Catsup.

One peck of ripe tomatoes cooked
and strained, one pint of vinegar, one and a half cups of sugar. Put in a cloth, two tablespoons of clover, one-half tablespoon of allspice, two tablespoons of salt, four tablespoons of cinnamon, one-quarter teaspoon of cayenne pepper. Cook all day until of right thickness.

Scotch Quick Cakes.

Rub three-quarters of a pound of butter into one pound of sifted flour,
mix up into it a pound of granulated sugar and a large tablespoonful of powdered cinnamon. Mix to a dough with three well beaten eggs, roll out into a sheet, cut into round cakes and bake in a quick oven. These cakes require but a few minutes to cook.

Potatoes Baked on Range.

Potatoes may be baked on top of the range. Place an asbestos mat on top of the range, and on this lay the potatoes, previously washed clean and dried. Cover with a deep pan, and in one hour you may eat a potato that is just bursting with mealiness. Turn them around occasionally.

Cleaning Silk.

Egg stains on silk can usually be removed by rubbing with ordinary table salt.

Headache Cure.

A teaspoonful of lemon juice in a small cup of black coffee is a safe remedy for bilious headache.

TRAVELER HAS A COMPLAINT

Found River, immortalized by Strauss,
Not at All Up to His Idea
of Things.

W. Y. Morgan, in a travel letter from Hungary, writes: "I wanted to waltz down the beautiful Blue Danube which Mr. Strauss made famous, and that was why we embarked on a river steamboat for three hundred miles of travel. I am in favor of the Danube and I am an admirer of Strauss. I have waltzed 17,000 miles to his Blue Danube music. But I must put it on record that Mr.
Strauss is a beautiful prevaricator or is color blind, for the Danube river is the shade of the Missouri river when it is up. It would be just as correct for the Hutchinson News to warble hysterically about the Blue Cow creek as it was for the Viennese composer to hang those remarkably touching harmonies on to a Blue Danube. I set this fact down with a sad heart. I wanted to ride on the Blue Danube and when the Danube was only dirty yellow water and not a limpid stream, it was certainly discouraging. I felt like I did when I saw the Tiber, where 'Horatius held the bridge,' and realized that any good man could jump it in a couple of jumps. I suppose the Black sea won't be black."—Kansas City Star.

SUDDEN DROP IN ART VALUES

Paintings on Senator Clark's Walls
Only Recently Quoted at $680,000,
Sold for $35,000.

Friends of Senator W. A. Clark informed him by wire, it is said, that 14 pictures hanging in his Fifth avenue home, in New York, had been bought by Tomlinson & Humes, Inc.,
of de luxe fame, from the estate of Sarah N. Myers of Buffalo, N. Y., for $35,000.

Senator Clark, according to testimony in the bankruptcy hearing of Tomlinson & Humes, Inc., here, had under consideration the purchase of the paintings for $680,000. He had permitted the pictures to be hung in his home by Seymour Thurber of Chicago, it was said, but had made no agreement to buy them.

The pictures include 12 Hogarths
and one Watteau, quoted at $480,000
and a Turner, quoted at $200,000.

EASILY SEEN.

"Bully idea. Glad you mentioned
it. I'll put one up tomorrow, sure!"

TIS TO PONDER.

"Man never ceases to marvel at the flight of time."

"And well may he marvel at it.
Why, in a few more years women who survived the Ohio flood won't

HEADED OFF.

"Did you tell her when you proposed to her, that you were unworthy of her? That always makes a hit with them."

"I was going to, but she told it to me first."

PLENTY OF PROVOCATION.

"I suppose there is a reason for so many mad dogs being reported just now."

"An all-sufficient reason. They are trying out the new plays."

FOREGONE CONCLUSION.

For Tax Reform.

The Hopkinsville Business Men's Association held a banquet a few nights ago in order to sum up and celebrate some of its achievements and to discuss plans for future work.

A number of subjects germane to the occasion were handled by able speakers, the programme including an address by Judge Breathitt on "The Constitutional Tax Amendment." At the conclusion of Judge Breathitt's speech, which was the last of the set speeches, the following resolution was offered and was adopted without a dissenting vote:

"Be it resolved by the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association, now in session at the Avalon, this 24th day of October, 1913, that said association is heartily in favor of the proposed constitutional tax amendment permitting a change in our present system of taxation, to be voted on at the November election, for the following reasons, and that it commends said proposition to the earnest and thoughtful consideration of the voters of Hopkinsville and Christian county:

"First—Because the present law does not afford sufficient revenue for the expenses of the Government.

"Second—If not changed the next Legislature will be compelled to raise the tax rate, which will simply result in more taxes on the property now assessed and already paying more than its share.

"Third—If not adopted now five years must elapse before the question can be voted on again.

"Fourth—If the new law is unsatisfactory the people will have a right to vote on it before it can go into effect.

"Fifth—Because our present tax law drives people and capital from the State and keeps others from coming in.

"Sixth—Because the present tax law is obsolete and unfair, as it imposes a double burden on some and permits others to escape.

"Seventh—Because under the present tax law every man is practically his own assessor, and the honest man has to pay for his less scrupulous neighbor.

"Eighth—Because all taxation should be fair and uniform, and all property should be made to pay its just proportion."

Voters who may be in doubt as to how they shall vote on this important amendment would do well to consider the reasons given by the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association for believing that a change in the system of taxation is desirable. Incidentally it may be remarked that all these reasons and many others have been advanced by the State Tax League in the excellent arguments that it is making in behalf of tax re-

HOUSEKEEPERS Must be Watchful

For great efforts are being made in this vicinity to sell baking powders of inferior class, made from alum acids and lime phosphates, both undesirable to those who require high-grade cream of tartar baking powder to make clean and healthful food.

The official Government tests have shown Royal Baking Powder to be a pure, healthful, grape cream of tartar baking powder, of highest strength, and care should be taken to prevent the substitution of any other brand in its place.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price per pound, and is cheaper and better at its price than any other baking powder in the world.

MRS. R. M. HURT

Succumbs To a Complication Of Ills, Aged 65.

Mrs. Belle Hurt, widow of the late Robert M. Hurt, died Tuesday at her home on Jesup avenue, aged 65 years. She had been in failing health for some time from a complication of diseases, but had been critically ill for only a week. Mrs. Hurt was formerly Miss Belle Owen and was a native of this county. She was a consistent member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Funeral services were held at the residence yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and the burial was in Riverside cemetery. Mrs. Hurt is survived by two children, Henry Hurt of this city, and Mrs. Buckner Campbell, who lives a few miles west of town.

form in Kentucky.

One point that should not be overlooked by the supporters of the amendment is the fact that if the measure fails at the coming election there will be a long postponement of the revision that is so much needed. At best it will require considerable time to bring about the change and no one who favors it should overlook the amendment on election day. —Courier-Journal.

THREE THINGS YOU NEED..

First—"Kentuckian"
A virile, newsy newspaper with the interest of the entire community at heart. Issues of the day are handled without fear or favor. You will find in this paper an up-to-date department for each member of the family. Clean, honest, straightforward—it is a paper your family should not be without.

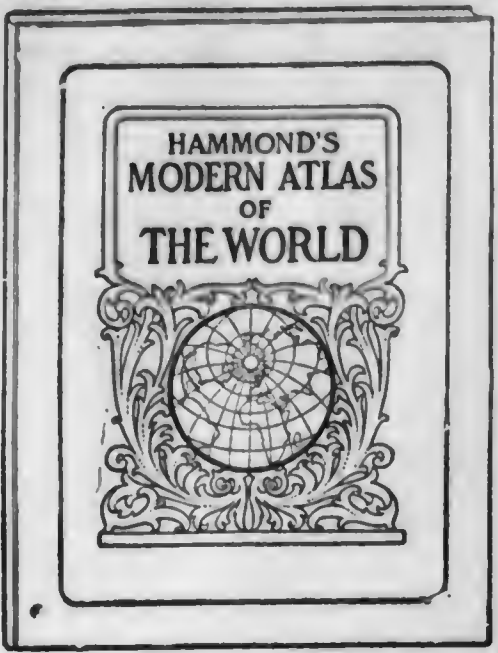

Second—Technical World Magazine
Is the one magazine that not only entertains in a fascinating manner, but which also instructs. It is the magazine for the busy business man, or for the person who wants to get away from the office in the afternoon, and be agreeably informed at the same time. It is profusely illustrated, and tells in a simple and interesting way of the discoveries of scientists, the achievements of inventors, the feats of engineers and explorers, and the opening of every new field of human endeavor. What Jack London says—"I have just chanced upon my first copy of TECHNICAL WORLD MAGAZINE. There isn't anything like it. I want more, and I cannot wait for them to come, so I am sending you here with check for which please enter my subscription and send me immediately the last two years' back numbers."

Third—A Fine Atlas
This one is just off the press. This is the year to obtain a new atlas. The 1910 Census has just been completed, this atlas contains 200 official figures, 128 pages of 3 color maps brought right down to date—every map giving the results of the most recent surveys. All railroads are shown and named and maps of all large cities are included. There are 21 double page maps showing in detail portions of the U. S. and Canada. Dimensions 10 1/2 x 13 1/2. Bound in stiff linen—Silver Leaf Title—printed on heavy plate paper. Sells regularly for $5.00. A splendid gift.

ALL THREE Only $3.80

Special arrangement with Technical World Magazine and the publishers of this Atlas make this offer possible. But it is very strictly limited. You must act immediately.

To Bring the Unemployed and the Waiting Job Together the Modern Problem.

Father Donaldson of York street, Brooklyn, was right in saying in his sermon recently that some lazy fellows let their wives work while they scorn low-paid employment and wait for something to turn up. If he suspected that the unemployed are generally of that type he was soon undeceived. He announced that he had a 50-a-month janitorship begging for an incumbent, and the papers printed what he said. A man of his parish jumped for the job and got it; all lay a pathetic succession of other men haunted the rectory looking for the employment they so badly needed, and unwilling to believe there was none for them.

Leave the lazy out of account. There are men seeking work, honestly, diligently, unsuccessfully. There is also work begging to be done. The hands may exceed the work in some other large cities, but the balance tips the other way in the west and in the farming regions.

No greater boon could be conferred upon the community, as well as upon the seekers of work, than an organization to bring the man and the job together.

FOREIGN AND AMERICAN IDEA
Interesting Comparison of the Two Brought Under Observation in New York Recently.

Two Italian girls were on the boat going from Ellis island to New York, one who had evidently lived in New York for some time and her sister, whom she had just met. The one who knew New York was furtively trying to furbish up her sister's costume, by pulling the collar of her blouse outside of her coat, rolling up her umbrella, and other little services. She, herself, was garbed in cheap editions of all the ultra fashions—she minced onto the boat with high heels and a scanty skirt. Her sister was a beautiful picture of outdoor Italian health. She walked with a free swing and carried her suitcase on her head, much to the humiliation of the other.

"It's perfectly wonderful what New York does for these foreign girls, isn't it?" commented a complacent New York woman, who had been visiting the island, to her companion.

AN APPREHENSION.

"If you are a good, hard-working young man," said the influential citizen to his son, "I may see to it that you are elected to the legislature." "Yes," replied the worldly wise youth, "and right there is where I will lose my reputation for being a good, hard-working young man."

TWO WATERLOOS.

The Host (showing family portraits, proudly)—Portrait of my great-uncle—lost an arm at Waterloo.

The Youth (hopelessly bored)—Putrid place, Waterloo; lost my golf sticks there last week.—London Sketch.

HEARD ON THE TRAIN.

"Does your boss ever find fault with you?"
"Never."
"He must be a fine sort of a man."
"He is; I work for myself."

MAIN THING.

"I am sorry, Mrs. Reilly, to hear of your loss—I mean your husband."
"No loss, ma'am, thanking you kindly. We got his insurance all right."

THE REASON.

"I see the new debating society has resolved not to admit women."
"Well, I suppose the men want to have a chance to talk."

PAW KNOWS EVERYTHING.

Willie—Paw, how can you measure the flight of time?
Paw—Borrow $50 on a 30-day note, my son.

HER PREFERENCE.

"Can your wife bake bread in an emergency?"
"I suppose she kin, but she generally does it in a gas stove."

NOT ON THE PROGRAM.

"Did the circus have a wild man?"
"None was advertised, but a fellow got short-changed and he was as wild as anybody I ever saw."

LIFEBOATS SLIDE

New Idea Makes for Safety of Gergs Who Have Hurdled to Leave Sinking Ship.

The danger of launching boats from the side of a big steamer is said to be overcome by a recent invention which provides a series of inclined tracks with their upper ends at the bow of the boat and extending to a point about amidships. The boat is on wheels, supplied with grooves so that the craft cannot readily leave the tracks until it reaches the water. The passengers are placed in the boat before it is sent on its downward trip. The boat strikes the water bow on and slides easily into the sea without any shock to the occupants.

The track would be in the way under ordinary circumstances, particularly when entering and leaving harbor, but provision is made to dispose of it in a manner that leaves little or no room for criticism in this particular.

When the lifeboats are being launched, as in case of an accident at sea, the tracks are held at a distance from the side to the ship sufficient to prevent the small boat from being dashed against the larger one.

NOT TO OFFEND HER

First Lawyer—I notice that you keep your golf clubs in your office.

Second Lawyer—Yes; our cook doesn't like the game.

TWO PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

Here is the Boston Globe's little question for today: "Why are men's shirts nearly always made with the sleeves too long?"

Very pertinent. And why does wife when she undertakes to reform said sleeves always get them too short?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

ROUGH ON HAROLD.

"My love."

"Yes, Harold?"

"What did your mother say when you told her you were engaged to me?"

"Said she knew the silly season was about due."

AGREEABLE CHANGE.

First Clubman—I've been watching Blowhard over there smoking.

Second Ditto—Where's the interest?

First—It's such a pleasant change to find him puffing something else besides himself.

TO KEEP THE COW AWAKE.

Wilbur—Do they always keep that big bell on the cow?

Papa—Yes, Wilbur.

Wilbur—I suppose it is to keep her from falling asleep in this quiet place.—Harper's Young People.

DISCOUNTED.

Maud—Last night Jack asked me how old I was and I told him twenty-two.

Marie—You were always good at subtraction, dear.

ALWAYS HARD.

"Jones has the hardest job of his life this summer."

"Indeed; what is it?"

"Trying to find a soft one."

SAFE KIND.

"There is a lot of graft in this peach-growing business."

"So there is; but the public always swallows it."

THE RESULT.

"Every person ought to follow his own bent."

"Maybe that is how some people come to be crooks."

PARADOXICAL.

"How can vertical writing favor forgers?"

"Sure enough, when it is such an upright style."

ON JUDGMENT

Medical Journal Deprecates the Removal of the Tonsils Without Due Consideration.

The Boston Medical and Surgical Journal, in reviewing a discussion on the removal of the tonsils, expresses the opinion that the operation is a much more serious one than it is popularly considered, and should certainly not be entered upon lightly, but discreetly, advisedly and soberly. This admonition coming as it does at a season when the tonsils, especially in children, are most subject to irritation and inflammation, should be borne in mind. "Tonsils," says the Journal, "should not be removed for trivial symptoms. Tonsillitis is not justifiable simply because the tonsils protrude in front of the pillars, or because they look ragged, or for occasional sore throat, or because they contain plugs, or because the patient is under ether for adenoids, or for any remote symptoms not of a serious nature, or to protect the child from indefinite infection, or for an occasional attack of simple acute tonsillitis."

DISPUTATION FOR THE SAGES

Matter of Life and Logic That May Possibly Furnish an Argument.

An empty bottle lay up bottom in the grass. Attracted by some sugar on its mouth, a bee and a fly crawled along inside and became imprisoned. "As a reasoning and rational insect," said the bee, "I know that the way to freedom is always toward the light."

And it buzzed consistently about in the end of solid glass.

The fly fussed around with seeming aimlessness.

"Foolish creature!" said the bee. "Why don't you, too, follow the only course of true logic, and go to the light?"

The fly did not answer, for just then it found the mouth of the bottle, and flew out into the open.

"Life, it seems, is larger than logic," it ruminated, as it went along rejoicing.—Amy Malhicks, in Harper's Weekly.

STRONG INDUCEMENT.

"We used to be neighbors, but he left very suddenly one morning and it was twenty years before I saw him again."

"What induced him to move away?"

"A cyclone came along and I guess he just had to go."

OF NO CONSEQUENCE.

"Do you expect to make the public think that star of yours can dance?"

"I guess you don't read the newspapers," replied the manager. "She's got the public thinking so much else that nobody will notice a little point like that."

NOT SOCIETY'S FAULT.

Gibbs—How did that rich boor manage to get introduced into society?

Hibbs—He wasn't introduced; he was injected.—Judge.

HOIST BY HIS OWN PETARD.

Knicker—Fine idea, old home week.

Mrs. Knicker—We'll hold one right here; you needn't go to the club for seven days.—New York Sun

HEARD ON THE TRAIN.

"Does your boss ever find fault with you?"

"Never."

"He must be a fine sort of a man."

"He is; I work for myself."

HIS STATUS.

Mrs. Honk—Colonel Hook is a congressman-at-large, isn't he?

Farmer Honk—Yes; they haven't arrested him yet.—Puck.

COMING MAN.

Griggs—Then you don't look upon Sharpe as a coming man?

Briggs—No, but I would if I was in charge of the penitentiary.

THE KIND.

"Does your mistress, Sally, eat salads with avidity?"

"No'm; just with plain kind o' dressin'."

CONTRARY SYMPTOMS.

"Odd, isn't it, that I should have such a sinking feeling?"

"Why is it odd?"

"Because my head is swimming."

WOMAN WIRELESS OPERATOR

New Line of Seafaring Endeavor Which Has Been Invaded by the Fair Sex.

Various lines of seafaring endeavors are open to women, but perhaps one of the most novel is that essayed
by Mrs. H. E. Soule, wife of the commander of the American Fisheries company steamer Windber. She has just been graduated from a school of instruction in wireless telegraphy as a full-fledged operator, and purposes
to fill a position aboard her husband's ship.

The Soules made a hazardous trip
from the Atlantic in the Windber
several months ago and upon arrival in port it was found necessary to overhaul the steamer. When the orders were received to proceed north and engage in the cannery business Captain Soule discovered that in order to carry passengers between the northern stations he would also have to engage the services of a wireless operator.

This new problem gave him no little trouble until his wife came to the rescue with the suggestion that she become the operator.

CORPORATION STYLE

The Lawyer's Wife—What does
the paper say about the styles?

The Lawyer (absently)—Large checks will be the correct thing in law suits this season.

PLEASURES OF HOPE.

"Hope," said Mayor Gaynor, at a luncheon in New York. "Hope-man is never without it."

The mayor looked about him in his quiet, whimsical way.

"Hope never deserts man," he said.
"When a man is young he hopes to attain fame. When he's old he hopes to escape the poorhouse."

EGOTIST.

Hokus—Flubdub seems to have a wonderful opinion of his knowledge.

Pokus—I should say he has. Why, I have actually heard him attempt to argue with his son, who is in his freshman year at college.—Lippincott's.

DIDN'T MISS 'EM.

"So your wife has lost her teeth?"
asked the sympathetic friend. "How in the world does she manage to get along without them?"

"Oh, it's no bother to her," gloom-ily returned Mr. Henpeck, "she has a biting tongue, you know."

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Senator Tillman was arguing the tariff with an opponent.

"You know, I never boast," the opponent began.

"Never boast? Splendid!" said
Senator Tillman, and he added quietly: "No wonder you brag about it."

SO CHANGED.

"I gave up smoking to please her."

"Good!"

"And drinking."

"Well?"

"Now she says she finds me very uninteresting."

LOW MUTTERING.

"Father has retired to his den.
That's the only place in the house
where he can do any talking."

"To whom does he talk?"

"Why, he talks to himself."

AROUND THE CIRCLE.

"In my time," declared grandma,

"girls were more modest."

"I know," said the flippant girl.

"It was a fact once. We may get back to it."

ALSO GAVE HIM EXERCISE.

Gibbs—Did that hair restorer you tried do any good?

Dibbs—Oh, yes; it kept me in a hopeful frame of mind for a while.

month.

COSTLY METHOD THAT FAILED

Husband With Nagging Wife Found That Peace Was Not to Be Purchased.

Once more has a member of the fair sex proved the truth of that age-old assertion, "a woman's tongue and a cat's tail are seldom quiet."

Out in Indiana a farmer near Logansport, in his suit for divorce, alleges that he is "living proof that a 75-acre farm hung on a woman's tongue an acre at a time is not sufficient to keep her from 'nagging.'"
In his petition to the court he relates that some time ago, when her "nagging" had become unbearable he proposed that for every day his wife refrained from practice he would give her an acre of land. By this means he claims to have won 75 days of peace at the cost of an acre of ground
a day, but dolefully declares that when his land gave out his wife resumed her curtain lectures. With nothing left to purchase silence he resorted to the courts in the hope of obtaining relief.

Thus has the sex once more been shamed by vehement and vitriolic
outpourings from the unsmuffled mouth of one of its members. Too bad—too bad!—Pennsylvania Grit.

CALLED TO SOLVE MYSTERY

New York Police Are in a Quandary
Over Most Remarkable Case
of Murder.

The body of a man that lay several months in a clump of bushes,
near the New Haven railroad tracks,
in Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y.,
until its discovery a few days ago,
was identified, but the police still has no clue to the manner in which he died.

Israel Robinowitz of New York
said the body was that of his old friend Max Gerfinkle, a vaudeville acrobat. Robinowitz said he had last seen Gerfinkle eight months ago.

The police are satisfied that the acrobat was murdered, because near his body lay an improvised slingshot
made of stones tied up in a silk sleeve
lining, and because the man's skull
had been crushed by a blow.

They are still looking for the woman whose strange actions near the thicket where the body lay led to its discovery.

DECLINE OF HOSPITALITY.

"You never visit your relations."

"Very seldom," replied Mr.
Growcher.

"Don't you like them?"

"Yes. I think too much of them to put them to the trouble and expense of special dinners on my account."

PRACTICAL FINANCE.

Jonesy—They say our currency circulation is $22 per capita. Now, you haven't $22, have you?

Smith—Yes. I have.

Jonesy—Have you? Lend me $5.
will you?—Puck.

EVERY ADVERTISER KNOWS THIS.

She—Does it take all you can make to pay for your big advertising?

He—By no means; but it would take more than I could make to pay for less.

IN ITS PLACE.

"Even the savage cannibal tribes
can be made to respect tender womanhood."

"Certainly they can. They prefer it tender."

NO TIME FOR REPENTANCE.

"I suppose that with Jinks it was a case of marry in haste and repent
at leisure."

"Not exactly. His principal complaint appears to be that he has no
leisure."

HIS HAPPY HOME.

"You look forlorn, old fellow.
Where's your wife all these months?"

"Telling how to make home happy on the lecture platform."

HE DIDN'T.

"Henry, do you love me?" she demanded.

"Why, darling, what a question!"

"Don't try to evade me, Henry!
I'm no liquor law!"—Puck.

IT WAS TRUE.

Baker—I understand your late wife could make everything in the cookbook.

Dyspeptic—She not only could,
but she did.—Judge

DR. PRESTRIDGE DROPS DEAD

The End Due To Apoplexy Came Without Warning.

WAS ABLE BAPTIST EDITOR

Son-in-law of Dr. John D. Clardy, of This County.

Rev. John N. Prestridge, editor of the Baptist World, died very suddenly of apoplexy yesterday, in Louisville. He had been in his usual health and his death was very unexpected. Dr. Prestridge was one of the most prominent Baptists in the South.

He was pastor of the Baptist church here 25 years ago, but had long lived in Louisville. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Fannie Clardy, only daughter of Dr. John D. Clardy, of this county.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Forest Notes.

Canada cuts about 2 million cords of pulp wood annually, about half of which is exported for manufacture in the United States.

It is claimed that some of the eucalypts of Australia are taller than the California redwoods, hitherto considered the highest trees in the world.

There are 55 oaks in the United States, about evenly divided between the east and west. The eastern species and particularly white oaks are the most valuable.

The bureau of forestry of the Philippine Islands will send tropical timbers to the U. S. forest service so that their suitability for fine furniture veneers may be ascertained.

Wood block paving, tried and discarded in many cities of the United States thirty years ago, is now coming back into favor, due to improved methods of treating and hardening the blocks.

German foresters are experimenting with Douglass fir from the United States trying to find a variety which will combine the fast-growing quality of the Pacific Coast form and the hardness of the Rocky Mountain form.

JUSTIFIABLE PANIC.

"You turned pale and trembled when you heard that loud report," said the fair girl, contemptuously. "Are you afraid of firearms?" "Firearms? No! I realized the awful truth. I guess I can tell a blowout in one of my automobile tires from a little thing like a pistol shot."

AT THE TAILOR'S.

"We have an order from a lawyer to make him a suit. How would you cut it?" "On the bias."

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

DOLLY'S AUNT PRUDENCE

By S. E. BAKER.

"We simply must have that lot," Frank Horton had said to his discouraged partner. "If we hope to remain in real estate business, we must never let a woman's refusal to sell stand in the way of a deal of the magnitude of this. That weed-grown, V-shaped strip of land isn't doing her the least bit of good, and yet she ties up our sale of that North Columbus property of the Driving Park association through her refusal to unload."

"We can't make her sell," his partner, Tom Haines, had answered dependently. "And she says she won't—for any amount of money. And you know there is no use reasoning when a woman is stubborn. She won't even answer my letters."

"Who is the woman?" "Prudence Grimes, and she lives in the little town of Suffolk. An old maid, I guess, and with peculiar ideas of her sort."

"I'm going out there," Frank had averred. At Suffolk he left his coach, almost colliding with a tall, pretty light-haired girl just in the act of boarding the train.

"Dolly!" "All a-b-o-a-r-d!" Suffolk is a small town. Trains stop there for about one moment.

Frank drew the natty suit case from the half-paralyzed fingers of the girl, seized her resolutely by the arm, and drew her away from the train.

"Why—the very idea!" The maid flushed indignantly as the conductor shut the door of the vestibule, and the wheels beneath it began to turn. "Look what you have done, Frank Horton. You've made me miss my train."

"Undoubtedly." The young six-footer's lips were compressed. "I want a little conversation with you."

"We have nothing to talk about."

"Oh, but we have. Why is it, Dolly that you have never wrote me? And how comes it that you are here?"

"My aunt lives here, if you must know. And as far as writing is concerned. I didn't write—well, just because."

"I can see a bench in that little park," said Horton with seeming irrelevance. "Let us go over there and try to come to some sort of an understanding."

"No, I'll not," declared Miss Dolly, in a voice with just a suspicion of a quiver in it.

The quiver was the flaw in the armor. In three seconds she was doing just what Horton had suggested and the youth was sitting beside her.

"And now," Horton insisted, "you must tell me three things: why you left Chicago so hastily, what you are doing here, and why you have never written me?"

"I shall do nothing of the kind," angrily denied the maid.

"But you will," Horton's tone was positive.

"Anyway, I have been taught never to write to a man until he has written to me first."

Horton looked his disgust. "As if," he parried, "I were possessed to some psychic gift to tell me where you were. This is the last place in the world I would look for you. Fate is against you—and I insist upon the answer to my question. The answer that you wouldn't give me in Chicago."

"My, how terrible it has become," said Dolly mockingly, and then, more decidedly, and with a hint of anger, "who gave you the right to speak to me so, Mr. Frank Horton? I'll answer your question or not—just as I choose."

"But Dolly—the man's voice was humble now—there isn't any reason at all in not answering." He reached over and took one of her hands. "Why didn't you tell me that you were coming away, Dolly?"

"I didn't know, Frank. Really, boy, you are too impatient."

"But your answer," insisted Horton. "You haven't given it to me—and I am waiting."

Two starry eyes turned to analyze the man. "There are none so blind," half-whispered a gentle voice, "as those who will not see."

"You mean?" he demanded eagerly.

"I'm not going to tell you what I mean," pouted the girl. "And to think that I ever imagined you to be smart. I am going to take you up to the house to meet my aunt and have you explain your boorish conduct."

"Then your aunt really lives here?"

"Yes, it is on her account that I came back here and left Chicago so hurriedly. She is such a suspicious person! A concern calling itself the Keystone Realty company has been trying to buy an absolutely worthless piece of property from her, and after she had refused several offers, they made her a positively startling one. She called me from Chicago to consult with her—I am her only relative, you know. I advised her to accept, and today she sent a letter to that effect. She—"

"What is her name?" gasped Horton.

"Miss Prudence Grimes. Why, what on earth is the matter, Frank Horton, stop that!"

But joyous youth was not to be restrained. Seizing the startled girl in his arms, Horton pressed his lips to her cheek.

Don't Wake Her.

"No man is perfect," declared the philosopher.

"True; but there is no use trying to convince a June bride—during June," remarked the cynic.

AMUSEMENTS.

William A. Brady, who can always be relied upon for the best, is sending us "Bought and Paid For" by George Broadhurst, recognized in the theatrical world as the most interesting work from this author's pen.

It seems to be like a man's play and a woman's play, appealing with pretty nearly equal force to both sexes. Most women believe that they would do as Virginia Stafford does when her millionaire husband comes home over-charged with champagne and forces his caresses upon her. On the other hand, most men think that while in Robert Stafford's place they would never submit to flat dictation on the point of swearing off champagne forever.

The play has been one of the pronounced successes of the past two seasons. It is being brought here by a company which everywhere this season has been greeted by big houses and giving great pleasure.

"Bought and Paid For" will be the attraction at Holland's Opera House Thursday night, (tonight) October 30.—Advertisement.

McAndrews, principal of the Washington Irving High School in New York told the Connecticut State teachers at their annual convention to dance the Tango, the bunny hug or any modern dance they liked. As another aid to cheerfulness he advised the teachers to wear their best gowns to school. "If you have only two," he said, "save your second best for Sunday."
